About Us

History in Progress

The Long-A-Coming Historical Society is dedicated to the preservation of our town’s history.

We are based in Berlin, Camden County, New Jersey.

Our meetings are held on the third Tuesday of the month from September to June at 7:30 p.m. at the Historic Berlin Railroad Station, Washington Avenue.

Membership is $10 per person and $15 per family per year.

Long-A Coming Historical Society

Ph 856-768-0482
Email: lachs@comcast.net

Mail: 59 S. White Horse Pike
Berlin, NJ 08009

www.long-a-coming.com
www.facebook.com/LongAComingHistoricalSociety
The Historic Berlin Railroad Station is the oldest existing station in New Jersey and is on the National Register of Historic Places. The station was built in 1856, closed in the 1960’s, and restored by the society in 1994. It is serves as the society’s headquarters and museum.

Some Things We’ve Done

- Time capsule placed during the town’s Centennial Celebration.
- Historic location signs.
- War Monuments refurbished.
- Historic clock fixed and refurbished.

The Historic Berlin Hotel was built circa 1826 and served as a stagecoach stop for travelers going from Camden to Atlantic City. It is the oldest existing commercial building on Route 30. The society saved it from demolition in 1999 and oversaw the renovation.

History is but the nail on which the picture hangs.
~Alexandre Dumas